| Costa Rica    | Costa Rica will celebrate WDACL by organizing a workshop where participants will bring information to discuss and consider ways to strengthen the global campaign against child labour in domestic work. The Department of Work and Social Security, along with the support of the ILO, will hold the workshop to inform participants – member representatives from the government, employer unions, employee unions, the NGOs, UN agencies, the general population and children and adolescents – about legislative reforms to aid the elimination of domestic child labour, establish decent working conditions, and adequate protection for domestic child workers legally able to work. Additional topics will include the ratification of Convention No. 189 and its application to child labour, as well as measures to be taken to promote the worldwide movement against child labour and strengthen the capacity of the domestic workers unions in order to tackle the question of child labour. Informative materials will be produced and disseminated throughout the campaign to raise awareness. | Noortje Denkers( denkers@ilo.org )                                                | José M. | Guatemala     | Guatemala will be celebrating WDACL by intensifying its efforts towards the elimination of the worst forms of child labour by 2015, with complete elimination of child labour by 2020. Guatemala has partnered with the ILO and UN Guatemala to mark the occasion and carry out a public event “No al trabajo infantil en el trabajo doméstico” to raise awareness among the general public. The event will take place in Guatemala City, in “Pasos y Pedales,” an area typically closed off from traffic on Sundays until two in the afternoon. Media coverage will be present as over 200 representatives from the government, employers’ and workers’ organizations, and women’s organizations will come together to raise public awareness and disseminate promotional materials (t-shirts, brochures, and notepads) regarding domestic labour in third-party houses and the ratification of Convention No. 189. | Carlos Linares(linaresc@ilo.org) | José M. | Guyana | June 8-14 – The Ministry of Labour, Human Services and Social Security in coordination with the ILO/IPEC, will organize two rural community festivals in areas with reported cases of child labour activities to raise public awareness on the issues of child labour, truancy and school absenteeism. The festivals will include Sporting Competitions during the day and cultural events. Children at risk of becoming involved in labour activities will be encouraged to participate. On 12 June, the Ministry of Education and Ministry of Labour will be holding a stakeholders conference on child labour to discuss key issues such as the presence of children in labour activities, especially in mining communities, identifying specific locations where children are found and the activities they engaged in, and determining the need for technical assistance to plan strategies for intervention. Additionally, these Ministries, along with the National Library, will be displaying banners to raise awareness among the general public. Between June 10-14 Peer Education Sessions will be held in certain secondary schools in Georgetown to encourage at-risk students to remain in school by setting up peer sessions with Senior Secondary School students who have remained in school and are benefiting from | Sharon Patterson | ozirmark@ilo.org |

| Indonesia | In Indonesia, a range of activities are planned to mark the World Day. Many will be supported by the ILO's PROMOTE project which seeks to tackle child labour in domestic work by strengthening domestic workers organizations. PROMOTE will support the launch of advocacy campaigns in Jakarta, Surabaya and Makassar, working together with Government Ministries, social partners, domestic workers organizations and NGOs. Below is a description of an activity in Jakarta on June 12 which will also be replicated in Surabaya and Makassar. To attract public attention, JARAK (a network of NGOs working on child labour) will launch a public awareness raising campaign at the Hotel Indonesia (HI) Roundabout in Central Jakarta. Participants from their member organizations and networks, including domestic workers (adults and children) will gather to disseminate campaign materials to the passerbys and to display messages promoting elimination of child labour and decent work for domestic workers. To mark the start of the awareness raising campaign, representatives from the Ministry of Manpower and Transmigration (MoMT), Ministry of Women Empowerment and Child Protection (MoWECP), Ministry of National Education (MoNE), and Ministry of Social Affairs (MoSA) will be invited by JARAK to release white doves to the sky symbolizing flying as high as possible to reach their dreams. Also in Maksasar on June 12 there will be a film screening and discussion on child domestic workers, targeted at | Jakarta arum@ilo.org sudono@ilo.org Surabaya Imelda A. | Japan | In Japan, various awareness raising activities on child labour will be taking place during June. On June 2, there will be a symposium in Yokohama on “Elimination of Child Labour, Universal Primary Education, and Youth Employment towards Quality Growth for a Dynamic Africa,” co-organized by the ILO Office for Japan and the Child Labour Network (group of NGOs, trade unions and civil society). This will be one of the side events of the 5th Tokyo International Conference on African Development – TICAD V (Yokohama, 1-3 June 2013). Besides the symposium, the Child Labour Network (CL-Net) plans to organize “Raise a Flag” Action Project during the month of June utilizing social media. Using the illustration prepared by Mr. Dick Bruner, Dutch artist, who has been a leading illustrator on child labour, the campaign aims to raise awareness on the issue of child labour, by asking supporters of the campaign to take photos of the campaign flag | Contacts for June 2 event: omachi@ilo.org nabeshima@ilo.org |                    |

| Namibia   | On June 12th, activities in Namibia will include the launch of an advocacy campaign to raise public awareness to child labour issues in the domestic sector by disseminating brochures, posters and banners amongst workers and communities. A workshop will be organised on July 19th as a follow-up measure to ensure that the Trade Union Congress of Namibia (TUCNA) is informed of issues regarding child domestic work in order to incorporate the topic into its policy agenda and operational plan.                                                                                                                                                                           | ILO Pretoria( westphal@ilo.org )           | osseiran@ilo.org                      |
| Nepal     | On 12 June there will be a "Talk Programme" on the issue of Child Domestic Workers. It will take place at the Department of Labour with representatives of the Government (MoLE), Trade Unions, Employers and the Civil Society. ILO and UNICEF will issue a joint press release on the eve of WDACL and a range of information and awareness raising materials are being produced to support the Day.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | bipina@ilo.org                                   |                                                                             |
| Nicaragua | To highlight the ratification of Convention No. 189, Nicaragua will celebrate WDACL by producing two new visual tools to educate public institutions, trade unions, employers, NGOs, teachers, and community leaders, about the grave risks of domestic child labour and the rights of adolescent workers. The ILO/IPEC will partner with "Parábolas" to promote an animated video about child labour in domestic work. This is intended to promote ease of accessibility and understanding for the public, in conjunction with a child's animated electronic game that allows children themselves to identify the risks associated with child labour in domestic work. | Olman Bolanos Vargas( olmanbo@gmail.com ) | Lars Johansen( johansen@ilo.org ) |

| Pakistan | An event will be held in Lahore on June 12 to launch the results of Rapid Assessments which have been undertaken in a number of Districts and provinces to collect information on some of the worst forms of child labour. The Employers' Federation of Pakistan (EFP) and Sialkot Chamber of Commerce and Industries together with the ILO Office in Pakistan is organizing an event in Sialkot on 11 June 2012 to highlight the major achievements made in eliminating child labour from major export industries including the soccer ball sector. Prior to the event, the representatives from Government, Employers and Workers will visit a school that was initiated by an ILO Project to provide education to many ex-child labourers and has been sustained by the local community and upgraded to a college. A report produced on the Sialkot Initiative will be launched by the EFP . Many other WDACL observance events will be organized on 12 June. In Punjab, the Provincial Child Labour Unit (PCLU) is organizing an event which includes the launching of rapid assessment reports of worst forms of child labour in 12 districts in Punjab and screening of video documentaries produced by media students of Lahore College of Women University. A Similar programme is planned by PCLU-Khyber Pakhtunkhwa jointly with University of Peshawar while PCLU-Sindh in Karachi and PCLU-Balochistan in Quetta are planning observance programmes involving local NGOs and various celebrities.
