Introduction

1. In accordance with the request by the Working Party on Policy regarding the Revision of Standards, the Office has been regularly preparing and updating an information note on the progress of work and decisions taken concerning the revision of standards. This updated information note takes into account the decisions of the Governing Body through its 277th Session (March 2000).
2. The setting up of a Working Party on Policy regarding the Revision of Standards was approved by the Governing Body at its 262nd Session (March-April 1995).¹ This decision was taken following the discussions on standard-setting policy at the International Labour Conference in 1994. The Working Party has held ten meetings (November 1995, March and November 1996, March and November 1997, March and November 1998, March and November 1999, March 2000). It has formulated a significant number of proposals that have been unanimously approved by the Committee on Legal Issues and International Labour Standards (LILS Committee) and the Governing Body. This note reviews the decisions taken thus far by the Governing Body, in order to inform the technical and regional departments, the external offices and the multidisciplinary teams, and to guide them in the development of follow-up measures that the Governing Body decisions require.
3. The Working Party has now almost concluded the case-by-case examination of the Conventions and Recommendations. Decisions have been taken by the Governing Body on 173 Conventions and 154 Recommendations.² Information on Governing Body decisions is presented below in a systematic and concise manner. In response to requests made, the Office is considering a revised and improved method of presenting the decisions taken in this context, particularly in the light of the strategic approach to ILO activities in the Decent work report. Such a presentation would focus on subject areas rather than types of decisions and would aim at providing an overview of the status of ILO standards in these areas. In view of the proposed approach to normative activities of the ILO, submitted for consideration to the Governing Body at the present session,³ the Office will present a new format for this information note to the Working Party for consideration at a forthcoming session.

² The text of the decisions appears in GB.264/9/2, GB.265/8/2, GB.267/9/2, GB.268/8/2, GB.270/9/2, GB.271/11/2, GB.273/8/2, GB.274/10/2, GB.276/10/2 and GB.277/11/2. The factual background and analysis of the Conventions examined are contained in GB.265/LILS/WP/PRS/1, GB.267/LILS/WP/PRS/2, GB.268/LILS/WP/PRS/1, GB.270/LILS/WP/PRS/2, GB.271/LILS/WP/PRS/1, GB.271/LILS/WP/PRS/2, GB.271/4/2, GB.273/LILS/WP/PRS/2, and GB.273/LILS/WP/PRS/4, GB.274/LILS/WP/PRS/2, GB.274/LILS/WP/PRS/3, GB.276/LILS/WP/PRS/4, GB.277/LILS/WP/PRS/1/2, GB.277/LILS/WP/PRS/2, GB.277/LILS/WP/PRS/3/1 and GB.277/LILS/WP/PRS/4.

I. Decisions concerning international labour Conventions

1. Conventions on fundamental rights at work and priority Conventions

4. The Governing Body has confirmed the central role of 12 Conventions within the ILO standards system. It considers that these Conventions remain fully relevant and up to date.

A. Eight Conventions on fundamental rights at work

Subject-matter	Conventions proposed for ratification
Freedom of association	Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to Organise Convention, 1948 (No. 87) Right to Organise and Collective Bargaining Convention, 1949 (No. 98)
Forced labour	Forced Labour Convention, 1930 (No. 29) Abolition of Forced Labour Convention, 1957 (No. 105)
Non-discrimination	Equal Remuneration Convention, 1951 (No. 100) Discrimination (Employment and Occupation) Convention, 1958 (No. 111)
Child labour	Minimum Age Convention, 1973 (No. 138) Worst Forms of Child Labour Convention, 1999 (No. 182) ⁴

5. The Governing Body decision strengthens the essential role and function of these Conventions, and therefore, there is no reason to contemplate their revision. The principles and rights contained in these Conventions are the substance of the ILO Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work and its Follow-up. A ratification campaign is under way aiming at the universal ratification of these Conventions.

B. Four priority Conventions

Subject-matter	Conventions proposed for ratification
Employment policy	Employment Policy Convention, 1964 (No. 122)
Labour inspection	Labour Inspection Convention, 1947 (No. 81) Labour Inspection (Agriculture) Convention, 1969 (No. 129)
Tripartite consultation	Tripartite Consultation (International Labour Standards) Convention, 1976 (No. 144)

6. The Governing Body decided in 1993 ⁵ that detailed reports on the application of these Conventions would be requested every two years for examination by the Committee of Experts on the Application of Conventions and Recommendations.

⁴ Convention No. 182 enters into force on 19 November 2000.

⁵ Document GB.258/6/19, Annex I.

2. Decisions to revise

7. Proposals for revision have been approved by the Governing Body with respect to 22 Conventions. Among them, Maternity Protection Convention (Revised), 1952 (No. 103), has been revised during the 88th Session (2000) of the Conference, by the adoption of the Maternity Protection Convention, 2000 (No. 183).

A. Nineteen proposals are final

B. Two proposals are conditional

Subject-matter	Conventions proposed for revision
Hours of work	Sheet-Glass Works Convention, 1934 (No. 43) Reduction of Hours of Work (Glass-Bottle Works) Convention, 1935 (No. 49)

⁷ The Governing Body decided that these Conventions would be included in the portfolio of proposals for the agenda of the International Labour Conference for joint revision.

8. The Working Party has recommended that these two Conventions be included among the Conventions that might be revised should the Working Party recommend a revision of other Conventions dealing with hours of work and working conditions of shiftworkers.
9. As regards the revisions concerning the instruments on occupational safety and health, the Governing Body will, at the present session, consider a proposal for an integrated framework analysis of ILO standards-related activities in this area.⁸

3. Promotion of the ratification of revised Conventions

10. Revised Conventions have not always attracted a large number of ratifications, and in certain cases the older Conventions have remained in force. The Governing Body has decided to invite the States parties to the initial Conventions to contemplate ratifying the corresponding revised Convention and denouncing, at the same time, the previous Convention.⁹
11. The main concern of the Working Party has been to avoid a member State deciding on an immediate denunciation of a Convention while postponing, until an uncertain later date, the ratification of the corresponding recent Convention. In this regard, during the discussions in the Working Party, both the Employer and the Worker members stressed that these two measures (ratification/denunciation) together constituted a balanced action that should not be disrupted, and that they should be taken concurrently.
12. The Governing Body has also emphasized that the implementation of these decisions implied that the member States would engage in tripartite consultations, particularly taking into account the procedures provided for in the framework of the Tripartite Consultation (International Labour Standards) Convention, 1976 (No. 144), and the Tripartite Consultation (Activities of the International Labour Organisation) Recommendation, 1976 (No. 152).
13. The Governing Body has decided accordingly for 44 older Conventions. In some cases, this invitation is accompanied by a request for information on the obstacles and difficulties encountered, if any, that might prevent or delay the ratification of the recent instruments.

⁸ See GB.279/4, GB.279/5/2 and GB.279/LILS/WP/PRS/3.

⁹ The technical modalities for denunciation vary from one instrument to the other. Conventions incorporating the standard final provisions state that ratification of the revised Convention shall ipso jure involve the immediate denunciation of the former Convention. Where the Conference has decided otherwise, however, and for most of the Conventions adopted before 1929 that did not contain this provision, denunciation is not automatic. In such cases, technically the registration of a denunciation can only be made during a given period of time. However, the Governing Body wished to stress the political decision to be taken by the governments, in consultation with the social partners, and not on the technical modalities that vary according to the Convention.

5. Requests for additional information

22. In the case of 37 Conventions, the Governing Body wished to obtain additional information from the constituents in order to be able to evaluate more precisely the obstacles to ratification or the need for revision of these instruments in the following manner.

A. General Surveys

23. As regards eight Conventions, the Governing Body decided to invite the member States to provide reports under article 19 of the Constitution and to request the Committee of Experts to carry out General Surveys based on such reports. A General Survey concerning two of these Conventions – the Migration for Employment Convention (Revised), 1949 (No. 97) and the Migrant Workers (Supplementary Provisions) Convention, 1975 (No. 143) – was examined by the International Labour Conference in June 1999. Following this examination, it was agreed to include an item on migrant workers in the portfolio of proposals for the agenda of the Conference, with a view to holding a general discussion which would allow an examination of the possibility of revision of Conventions Nos. 97 and 143.²⁰ During its 276th Session, the Governing Body decided that this question would be included in the short list of proposals for the agenda of the 90th Session

¹⁷ The request for information on the need for revision of Conventions Nos. 77, 78 and 124 includes the question of their possible consolidation.

¹⁸ In addition, an item entitled “Social security issues, challenges and prospects” has been placed on the agenda of the 89th Session (2001) of the Conference with a view to a general discussion.

refers to the obstacles and difficulties which might prevent or delay the ratification or point to the need for a full or partial revision of these Conventions.²⁶

26. The Governing Body has also decided to invite member States to provide information on the possible obstacles encountered which could prevent or delay ratification or point to the need for full or partial revision of the Accommodation of Crews (Fishermen) Convention, 1966 (No. 126).
27. Furthermore, the Governing Body invited member States which had not yet ratified the Social Security (Minimum Standards) Convention, 1952 (No. 102), to provide ad hoc information on any possible obstacles to ratification of this Convention and on the reasons for the limited recourse to the flexibility clauses that it contains.²⁷
28. In addition, in the case of four Conventions relating to workers in non-metropolitan territories, the Governing Body wished that the Office engage in consultations with the governments concerned.²⁸ These Conventions will be re-examined by the Working Party at a later stage, taking into account the outcome of these consultations.

6. Shelving, abrogation and withdrawal

A. Decisions to shelve

29. The Governing Body considered that certain Conventions no longer corresponded to current needs, and that they had become outmoded or obsolete. It accordingly decided to shelve, with immediate effect, the following 27 Conventions:

Subject-matter	Conventions shelved
Employment service	Fee-Charging Employment Agencies Convention, 1933 (No. 34)
Hours of work	Hours of Work (Coal Mines) Convention, 1931 (No. 31) Sheet-Glass Works Convention, 1934 (No. 43)

²⁶ See above, section 4, para. 20.

²⁷ See also above, section 4, para. 21.

²⁸ With regard to the Social Policy (Non-Metropolitan Territories) Convention, 1947 (No. 82), it is a matter of making sure that its provisions are being applied by States parties in the framework of other Conventions in the non-metropolitan territories concerned.

In the case of the Labour Standards (Non-Metropolitan Territories) Convention, 1947 (No. 83), it is a matter of examining in what way the Conventions listed in the Annex to Convention No. 83 could continue to be applied in the non-metropolitan territories concerned.

The member States that have made a formal commitment to apply the provisions of the Right of Association (Non-Metropolitan Territories) Convention, 1947 (No. 84), are invited to contemplate ratifying the Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to Organise Convention, 1948 (No. 87) and/or, as appropriate, the Right to Organise and Collective Bargaining Convention, 1949 (No. 98).

The five States parties to the Labour Inspectorates (Non-Metropolitan Territories) Convention, 1947 (No. 85), are invited to contemplate extending the application of the Labour Inspection Convention, 1947 (No. 81), and/or of the Labour Inspection (Agriculture) Convention, 1969 (No. 129), to non-metropolitan territories that continue to be governed by the provisions of Convention No. 85.

Subject-matter	Conventions shelved
	Hours of Work (Coal Mines) Convention (Revised), 1935 (No. 46) Reduction of Hours of Work (Glass-Bottle Works) Convention, 1935 (No. 49) Reduction of Hours of Work (Public Works) Convention, 1936 (No. 51) Reduction of Hours of Work (Textiles) Convention, 1937 (No. 61) Hours of Work and Rest Periods (Road Transport) Convention, 1939 (No. 67)
Night work	Night Work (Bakeries) Convention, 1925 (No. 20)
Occupational safety and health	Protection against Accidents (Dockers) Convention, 1929 (No. 28)
Social security	Old-Age Insurance (Industry, etc.) Convention, 1933 (No. 35) Old-Age Insurance (Agriculture) Convention, 1933 (No. 36) Invalidity Insurance (Industry, etc.) Convention, 1933 (No. 37) Invalidity Insurance (Agriculture) Convention, 1933 (No. 38) Survivors' Insurance (Industry, etc.) Convention, 1933 (No. 39) Survivors' Insurance (Agriculture) Convention, 1933 (No. 40) Maintenance of Migrants' Pension Rights Convention, 1935 (No. 48)
Minimum age	Minimum Age (Non-Industrial Employment) Convention (Revised), 1937 (No. 60)
Migrant workers	Inspection of Emigrants Convention, 1926 (No. 21) Migration for Employment Convention, 1939 (No. 66)
Indigenous workers	Recruiting of Indigenous Workers Convention, 1936 (No. 50) Contracts of Employment (Indigenous Workers) Convention, 1939 (No. 64) Penal Sanctions (Indigenous Workers) Convention, 1939 (No. 65) Contracts of Employment (Indigenous Workers) Convention, 1947 (No. 86) Abolition of Penal Sanctions (Indigenous Workers) Convention, 1955 (No. 104)
Seafarers – General conditions of employment	Paid Vacations (Seafarers) Convention (Revised), 1949 (No. 91)
Seafarers – Minimum age	Minimum Age (Trimmers and Stokers) Convention, 1921 (No. 15)

30. Ratification of shelved Conventions is no longer encouraged and their publication in Office documents, studies and research papers will be modified. Shelving also means that detailed reports on the application of these Conventions will no longer be requested on a regular basis. However, the right to invoke provisions relating to representations and complaints under articles 24 and 26 of the Constitution remains intact. In addition, employers' and workers' organizations may still submit observations in accordance with the regular supervisory procedures, for a review by the Committee of Experts resulting, where necessary, in requests for detailed reports. Finally, shelving has no impact on the status of these Conventions in the legal systems of member States that have ratified them.

B. Deferred decisions to shelve

31. The Governing Body further decided to postpone the decision to shelve ten Conventions.

32. It considered that the shelving of Conventions Nos. 63 (statistics), 4 and 41 (night work for women) could not be envisaged until the number of ratifications of these Conventions has decreased.

33. As regards Conventions Nos. 32 and 62 (occupational safety and health), 24, 25 and 44 (social security), the States parties are invited to communicate to the Office information on the obstacles and difficulties, if any, that might prevent or delay the ratification of the more recent Conventions, namely the Occupational Safety and Health (Dock Work) Convention, 1979 (No. 152), the Safety and Health in Construction Convention, 1988 (No. 167), the Medical Care and Sickness Benefits Convention, 1969 (No. 130), and the Employment Promotion and Protection against Unemployment Convention, 1988 (No. 168).
34. Finally, in the case of two Conventions relating to workers in non-metropolitan territories (Conventions Nos. 82 and 83) the question of shelving will be re-examined in the light of consultations to be held with the member States concerned.²⁹

C. Prospects for abrogation or withdrawal

35. At its 85th Session in June 1997, the Conference adopted a proposal to amend the ILO Constitution and the Standing Orders of the Conference in order to enable the Conference to proceed with the abrogation or withdrawal of Conventions or Recommendations. The constitutional amendment aims at enabling the Conference to abrogate, by a majority of two-thirds of the votes of delegates present, any Convention that has lost its purpose or no longer makes a useful contribution to the accomplishment of the objectives of the Organization.³⁰ By 6 September 2000, 58 member States had ratified or accepted this amendment, including three countries of chief industrial importance.³¹ Following the amendment of its Standing Orders,³² the Conference can also decide on the withdrawal of Conventions which have not entered into force or which are no longer in force as a result of denunciations, or of a recommendation.
36. The Governing Body has retained five shelved Conventions as candidates for a possible abrogation:
- Hours of work: Convention No. 67;
 - Occupational safety and health: Convention No. 28;
 - Minimum age: Conventions Nos. 15 and 60;

²⁹ See above, section 5C, para. 28.

³¹ Albania, Antigua and Barbuda, Bahrain, Bangladesh, Barbados, Bulgaria, Canada, China, Cyprus, Czech Republic, Dominica, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Egypt, Ethiopia, Finland, Hungary, Iceland, India, Ireland, Jordan, Republic of Korea, Kuwait, Lebanon, Libyan Arab Jamahiriya, Malaysia, Malawi, Mauritius, Mexico, Moldova, Namibia, Nepal, New Zealand, Nicaragua, Norway, Pakistan, Panama, Peru, Portugal, Qatar, Romania, San Marino, Saudi Arabia, Singapore, Slovak Republic, Spain, Sri Lanka, Sweden, Switzerland, Syrian Arab Republic, Tajikistan, Thailand, Togo, Turkey, United Arab Emirates, United Kingdom, Yemen and Zambia.

³² New article 45bis of the Standing Orders of the Conference.

- Seafarers: Convention No. 91.³³

37. Furthermore, the Governing Body decided to propose to the Conference the withdrawal of 11 Conventions which had not entered into force.³⁴ Five of these Conventions were withdrawn by the International Labour Conference at its 88th Session (2000):³⁵

- Hours of work: Conventions Nos. 31, 46, 51, 61;
- Migrant workers: Convention No. 66.

The question of the withdrawal of six other Conventions is yet to be placed on the agenda of the International Labour Conference:³⁶

- Seafarers: Conventions Nos. 54, 57, 72, 75, 76 and 93.

7. Status quo

38. Regarding the following 11 Conventions, the Governing Body decided to maintain the status quo, considering that no other type of decision was appropriate.

³³ The Working Party (or LILS Committee) will re-examine the situation of Convention No. 91 in due course with a view to its possible abrogation when the level of ratifications of Convention No. 91 has substantially decreased as a consequence of the ratification of Convention No. 146.

³⁴ Furthermore, the Working Party (or LILS Committee) will re-examine the situation of Convention No. 109 including its possible withdrawal in due course, after the entry into force of Convention No. 180.

³⁵ See Reports VII(1) and (2), and Provisional Records 62, 6-2A-E, 88th Session (2000) of the ILC.

³⁶ Reports VII(1) and VII(2).

II. Decisions concerning international labour Recommendations

39. During the 277th Session (March 1999) of the Governing Body, the Working Party examined a third group of Recommendations. The Governing Body has taken decisions with respect to 154 of them in total. Recommendations are non-binding instruments which define the Organization's objectives in a specific sphere and at a given time, and which establish guidelines to be used by member States in the area of social policy. Contrary to Conventions, Recommendations are not subject to ratification.
40. According to the methodology adopted by the Working Party for their examination, Recommendations which have been replaced by way of explicit Conference decisions have been distinguished from Recommendations which may have become de facto obsolete following a change of circumstances or the adoption of later standards on the same subject. In addition, a distinction has been made between Recommendations which accompany or supplement a Convention and those which are autonomous. The Governing Body decisions concerning the former group of Recommendations tend to follow the decisions taken for the corresponding Conventions.³⁷

1. Decisions to revise

41. The Governing Body decided the revision of eight recommendations in accordance with the proposals of the Working Party.³⁸

Subject-matter	Recommendations
Hours of work	Hours of Work and Rest Periods (Road Transport) Recommendation, 1979 (No. 161)

2. Up-to-date Recommendations

42. When a Recommendation is considered up to date, the Governing Body has invited the member States to give it effect, in accordance with the provisions of article 19 of the Constitution. The Governing Body decided accordingly regarding the following 30 Recommendations.

³⁷ See table attached to this information note.

³⁸ In addition, the revision of Convention (No. 103) and Recommendation (No. 95) on Maternity Protection, 1952, during the 88th Session of the Conference resulted in the adoption of the Maternity Protection Convention (No. 183) and Recommendation (No. 191), 2000. Final remarks

51. The Governing Body has asked the Office to continue to solicit the information requested in its decisions concerning the revision of standards, to promote the ratification of revised or up-to-date Conventions (inviting the member States to denounce at the same time, as appropriate, the corresponding older, outdated Conventions) and to invite member States to give effect to the up-to-date Recommendations. The Office has been asked also to provide technical assistance as required by member States in order to enable them to respond in detail to these requests for information with the aim of contributing to the future orientation of the work of the Organization in the field of revision of standards.
52. The Director-General would expect the full cooperation of all units and officials concerned, and in particular of the specialists of the multidisciplinary teams, in order to follow up on the decisions taken by the Governing Body, which are of crucial importance to the credibility and the effectiveness of the standards system of the Organization.

⁴⁴ The Governing Body has also invited the Office to undertake a study of working-time arrangements and rest periods in the fishing industry.

Summary tables

1. The three tables that follow contain a summary account of the decisions taken by the Governing Body in the context of the policy regarding the revision of standards.
2. In the first table, Conventions and Recommendations are grouped together following the classified guide of international labour standards. Nevertheless, for reasons of simplicity, instruments that cover more than one subject-matter appear only once in the table. Thus, for example, the Minimum Age Convention, 1973 (No. 138), is included only under the heading “Basic human rights – Child labour” and does not appear under the heading “Employment of children and young persons – Minimum age”.
3. The other two tables present the Conventions and Recommendations, respectively, in chronological order.
4. For reasons of clarity, the decisions have been arranged into five categories: “Up-to-date instruments”, “Instruments to be revised”, “Outdated instruments”, “Requests for information” and “Other instruments”. Not all the nuances contained in the Governing Body decisions have therefore been reflected in the tables.
5. The category “Up-to-date instruments” includes, in addition to the fundamental and priority Conventions (appearing in bold) and the instruments adopted since 1985, the Conventions the ratification of which the Governing Body has decided to promote and the Recommendations the implementation of which it also has decided to promote.
6. The “Instruments to be revised” include those instruments the revision of which has been decided by the Governing Body, in addition to two Conventions whose possible revision depends on the revision of other instruments on the same subject-matter.
7. The category “Outdated instruments” includes the Conventions that have been shelved and those Conventions which the Governing Body has invited States parties to denounce while inviting them at the same time to ratify more recent Conventions on the same subject-matter. This category also includes Recommendations that have been juridically replaced by subsequent instruments or have been declared obsolete by the Governing Body.
8. The “Requests for information”, which constitutes the fourth category, includes the instruments for which the Governing body has requested that a general survey or a short survey be carried out, as well as ad hoc requests for additional information.
9. The last category, “Other instruments”, includes the Conventions and Recommendations for which the Governing Body has decided to maintain the status quo, in addition to those that, having been the object of particular decisions of the Governing Body, cannot be classified in any of the other four categories.
