

Committee on the Application of Standards

Date: 16 May 2022

Governments concerned are invited to submit written information on serious failure to report by 16 May 2022.

▶ Information on cases of serious failure to respect reporting and other standards-related obligations supplied by governments

United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland – British Virgin Islands

Failure to reply to all or most CEACR comments

The Government has provided the following written information.

The Government is dedicated to meeting its reporting obligations on ILO Conventions. Significant effort was put into submitting the article 22 Report on the Maritime Labour Convention, 2006 (MLC, 2006) in 2021. Unfortunately, due to various challenges and turnovers in the Ministry in 2021, the other report, the Seafarers' Identity Documents Convention, 1958 (No. 108), requested was not submitted. We are however committed to ensuring the timely submission of all ILO reports due, and are currently taking measures in that respect.