The investigations shall take place at such dates as the President may from time to time determine. If after such an investigation it is decided by the President that revised Pension Tables shall be adopted, the new Pension Tables as approved by the actuary shall be substituted for the Tables previously in force and shall come into force on a date which shall be notified in the Gazette and shall apply to any pension payable in respect of a person who becomes a contributor on or after that date but not to any pension payable in respect of a person who was a contributor before that date.

Periodical revision of Pension Tables. [21 of 1952].

7. Pensions payable under this Act or under any Ordinance repealed by this Act shall be a charge on the Consolidated Fund.

Pensions to be paid out of Consolidated Fund.

8. Pensions payable under this Act shall commence upon the death of the contributor in respect of whom they are payable, shall accrue daily and shall be payable monthly in arrear. However, a pension may be payable quarterly instead of monthly if the pensioner so desires.

Pension: when to commence and how payable.

9. (1) The pension payable to the widow of a contributor shall cease on her death, bankruptcy or re-marriage or on the forfeiture of the whole of such pension in accordance with this Act.

When pension to widow and to children shall cease. [28 of 1973].

(2) If on such pension to the widow ceasing as mentioned above there are no children of the contributor living and of pensionable age, and otherwise eligible for pension, the pension payable to the widow shall lapse.

(3) If on such pension to the widow ceasing as mentioned above there are such children or a child living and of pensionable age the pension shall be continued and paid to such children or child in accordance with this Act.

(4) The pension to the children of a deceased contributor shall cease in the case of males at eighteen years of age, and in the case of females at eighteen years of age or on marriage under that age. However, where the President is satisfied that a child who has reached the pensionable age is by reason of infirmity of mind or body incapable of earning a livelihood, and has no sufficient means of support, he may order that the whole or any portion of the pension which—

- (b) would have become payable to the child in the event of the death of the widow had not the child attained the pensionable age,

Rates of contribution.

10. The rates of contribution shall be as follows:

Exceeding	Not Exceeding	Fixed Rate
$	$	$

2,160	2,520	96.00
2,520	2,880	115.20
2,880	3,360	134.40

and so on, the annual contribution increasing by $19.20 for each step of $480 in the salary scale;

- (b) an officer whose salary is $480 a year shall contribute at the fixed annual rate of $19.20;

(c) a contributor at the commencement of this Act may elect to continue contributing at the rate of four per cent on his salary until he has been transferred to another office carrying a salary higher than that which he earned at the commencement of this Act, but upon the transfer his contributions shall be at the rates fixed in paragraph (a); but any such contributor may at any time before the transfer elect to contribute at the rates fixed in paragraph (a).

11. (1) For the purpose of fixing the rate of contribution no regard shall be had to any personal, duty or acting allowance, nor to any other receipts, emoluments or advantages of any kind which the officer may receive or enjoy; but the contribution shall be assessed with regard only to the amount of the salary of the definite post or posts held by the officer without previous deduction of the amount of his contributions.

Salary of substantive posts only to determine rates of contribution.

(2) Any public officer who at the commencement of this Act is a contributor in respect of any allowances, receipts, emoluments or advantages in excess of his salary as hereinbefore defined, may elect to continue contributing on the excess; but if he elects to contribute on his salary only he will not be entitled to any refund of contributions previously paid on the excess.

12. (1) No officer shall be required to contribute at a higher rate than $288 a year including his contributions under any approved scheme in respect of which he has been granted exemption under this Act.

Maximum amount and period of contributions.

(2) No officer shall after attaining the age of sixty years contribute at a higher rate than that at which he was contributing immediately before attaining that age.

(3) On a contributor having contributed for a period of thirty-five years, or attaining the age of sixty-five years, whichever event first happens, the fact shall be notified by him to the Committee, and no further contributions shall be payable by him, whether he is pensioned or not, or whether he remains in the public service thereafter or not.

Rate of contribution on reduction of salary.

13. (1) A contributor whose salary is reduced so that he comes under a lower scale of contribution may at his option upon giving notice in writing to the Committee, elect either—

- (a) to continue contributing on the basis of the salary received by him prior to the reduction; or
- (b) to contribute on the basis of his reduced salary.

(2) A contributor whose salary is reduced below $480 a year shall not thereby cease to be a contributor but may elect as provided in subsection (1)(a) or to contribute on a basis of $480.

Optional additional contribution. [21 of 1952].

14. (1) A contributor who within six months of the commencement of this Act, or of the date of his first payment of contribution under this Act, or within six months after marrying, shall by written notice to the Committee so elect, may make an additional annual contribution of one-half of the amount specified in the line in column 3 of section 10, which is applicable to him at the date of notification, or if he so decides at the date of notification, of one-half the amount so specified which is applicable to him from time to time. A contributor who has not so elected within any such period may be permitted so to elect at any time during his contribution term, subject to the approval of the Committee and subject to medical examination if so required by the Committee. If he so elects to make an additional annual contribution he shall make it accordingly as from the first day of the month next after that in which his notice was received by the Committee or as from the first day of the month next after that in which the Committee's approval was given to his subsequent election as the case may be.

(2) A contributor who is making an additional annual contribution may at any time by notification to the Committee elect to discontinue such contribution as from the beginning of the month next after that in which his notification of election is received by the Committee. When a contributor so elects to discontinue an additional annual contribution only such instalments as form part of a complete annual contribution paid by him shall be taken into account for the purpose of calculating any pension under this Act and any balance shall not be refunded except in pursuance of sections 27, 28 and 29.

(3) No officer shall be allowed to make more than one additional annual contribution under the scheme at the same time.

(4) A contributor who at the time of his reappointment to the public service of Trinidad and Tobago is already making an additional annual contribution under the scheme shall (unless he elects at any time to discontinue the additional contribution in the manner herein provided) continue to pay it as an additional contribution under this Act, and an officer who has ceased to contribute under the scheme may on being reappointed to the public service elect to make an additional annual contribution at the rate then applicable to him from time to time.

15. (1) It shall be competent for the Committee, on being satisfied that a public officer appointed to the public service is a contributor under one or more approved schemes, as defined in section 2, to recommend to the President, on the application of the officer, that he shall, so long as he continues as a contributor under the approved scheme or schemes, be exempted from the provisions of this Act except with regard to the excess, if any, of the salary receivable by the officer from Trinidad and Tobago over the aggregate amount in respect of which he will continue to be a contributor under such approved scheme or schemes. The President may thereupon direct the abatement from the salary of the officer to be limited to such excess of salary as aforesaid, and the officer shall, while he continues to be a contributor under such approved scheme or schemes, be a contributor in Trinidad and Tobago (but subject to medical examination if so required by the Committee) in respect only of the excess as mentioned above.

Exemption to officer a member of approved scheme to contribute. [21 of 1952].

(2) It shall be competent for the Committee to require such contributor from time to time to produce the receipts for his contributions or other evidence of his continuing to be a contributor under such approved scheme or schemes and it shall be deemed a requirement of this Act for the contributor so to produce the same.

(3) No claim for exemption under this section shall be valid unless it is made in writing and reaches the Committee not later than six months after the date from which the officer commenced to draw salary from Trinidad and Tobago. Nothing in this section shall exempt an officer who on reappointment to the service of Trinidad and Tobago is already a contributor under the scheme from continuing his contributions thereto.

Increased contributions.

16. Increases of contributions shall rank for the purpose of calculating pensions as if they were fresh entrances at the respective ages of husband and wife when the increase takes place.

Reduced contributions.

17. In any case in which any person ceases to be a contributor or becomes a contributor to a reduced extent, the pension to his widow or children shall be reduced in the same proportion as it would have been increased had his rate of contribution been raised instead of lowered.

Period and manner of payment of contributions. [21 of 1952 11 of 1972].

18. (1) All annual contributions shall be paid in monthly instalments to the Comptroller of Accounts or retained by the Comptroller of Accounts by monthly abatements from the salaries or pensions of contributors and shall be payable or liable to retention until either the contributor dies, or he has contributed to the scheme for a period of thirty-five years or has attained the age of sixty-five years, whichever event first happens.

Contributions, etc., to be paid into Consolidated Fund.

(2) All abatements from the salaries and pensions of, and all other amounts receivable from, public officers under this Act, when received by the Comptroller of Accounts, shall, subject to subsections (3) to (6), be carried to the credit of the Consolidated Fund.

(3) Until the President by Order otherwise directs, the appropriate amount shall be deducted from the monthly instalments of contributions paid by way of abatement from salaries of contributors for the purpose of payment of—

Ch. 32:01.

(a) the contribution (within the meaning of the National Insurance Act) of a contributor who is an employed person under the National Insurance Scheme; or

(b) such portion of the said contribution as is determined in any arrangement for harmonisation of the benefits conferred under this Act with those under the National Insurance Scheme by Rules made by the President under section 41.

(4) All amounts deducted under subsection (3) shall be paid by the Comptroller of Accounts to the account of the funds of the Board of Management on behalf of the employed person.

(5) The same benefits shall continue to be payable under this Act as if the full amount of the contributions specified in section 10 had been credited to the Consolidated Fund; and the contributor shall for all the purposes of this Act and of any other written law relating to contributions paid hereunder be deemed to have paid the full amount of the contribution under and for the purposes of this Act.

(6) In this section—

“employed person” means any such person who is registered or eligible to be registered under Part II of the National Insurance Act (in this subsection referred to as “the said Act”);

“National Insurance Scheme” means the system of national insurance established under the said Act;

“Board of Management” means the Board established under section 3 of the said Act.

19. The annual contribution shall be paid in monthly instalments to the Comptroller of Accounts by, or be retained by the Comptroller of Accounts by monthly abatements from the salary of, every public officer who is liable to become compulsorily a contributor, from the date of his becoming so liable. But in the event of the officer not being found eligible to be a contributor, the amount of the instalments or abatements, as the case may be, without deduction shall be returned to him or to his legal personal representative in case of his death.

Officers not yet eligible for privileges under Act to contribute until examined.
[21 of 1952].

20. (1) A person appointed on probation or provisionally only to the public service shall contribute by abatement from his salary, but shall not become entitled to any privilege or benefit under this Act until his appointment is confirmed.

Contributions during provisional appointment.
[21 of 1952].

(2) If his appointment is made permanent, and subject to his being found eligible to be a contributor, the date of his becoming entitled to the privileges and benefits conferred by this Act shall,

for all purposes, be taken to be the date when he was appointed on probation or provisionally.

(3) In the event of his not being permanently appointed, or of his not being found eligible to be a contributor, the amount of his contributions without any deduction shall be returned to him, or to his legal personal representative in case of his death.

Contributions
by officers on leave, etc., and acting officers.

21. (1) The aforesaid abatements shall be made whether an officer be on leave of absence or not, or under interdiction, and irrespective of what proportion of his salary is payable to him whilst on such leave or under interdiction.

(2) When a contributor is on leave of absence without salary, he shall still be liable to pay the same contribution in respect of the absence as would have been deducted from his salary had he received the same, and if he does not pay the amount so due, it shall be deducted from his future salary in such monthly proportions as the Committee require or, in the event of his death, from any pension payable to his widow or children.

(3) In no case shall any deduction be made from any salary payable out of the emoluments of any office to any person appointed to act temporarily in such office.

(4) A contributor appointed to any office which is of a temporary nature shall, during the continuance of his temporary office, continue to contribute in respect of the salary of the office which he previously held as a member of the permanent public service, and after the abolition of the temporary office or his retirement therefrom he shall contribute on the salary which he thereafter receives.

Medical examination of officers before acceptance as contributors.
[21 of 1952].

22. (1) Every public officer, before becoming entitled to the privileges and benefits of a contributor, shall have undergone a medical examination to the satisfaction of the Committee.

(2) Any person, before becoming entitled to the privileges and benefits of a contributor, may be required by the Committee to answer in writing and sign his name at the foot of the questions prescribed in the Third Schedule and any other questions which may be from time to time prescribed by the Committee or deemed necessary by a medical examiner, and in reporting on the life of such person a medical examiner shall have regard to the answers to the questions. Such report shall be treated as strictly confidential.

(3) Such questions and answers shall be preserved and shall be deemed the basis of the contract between the Committee and the person signing the same, and in the event of any of the answers to the questions being materially untrue to the knowledge of such person, it shall be held fraudulent, and the person, if living, shall forfeit all contributions and cease to be a contributor; and if the fraud is discovered after his death, the Committee, on satisfactory proof thereof, may, subject to the approval of the President, direct any pension otherwise payable to the widow or children of the person to be forfeited wholly or in part.

(4) No public officer is entitled to any of the privileges and benefits of a contributor until he has been accepted by the Committee as a contributor, but the annual contribution in this Act provided for shall be made pending his acceptance by the Committee.

23. (1) If a medical examiner certifies that the life of a public officer examined by him is not a safe and proper life, the Committee may either refuse to accept the officer as a contributor or, if the medical examiner so advises, suspend a final decision for such time, not exceeding twelve months, as the Committee think fit; and the Committee shall, in the event of their suspending a final decision, direct another examination of the officer at the expiration of such time as mentioned above.

Failure to pass medical examination. [21 of 1952].

(2) If a medical examiner certifies that the life of a public officer examined by him is not a fair average life, but that he may be accepted as a contributor subject to the conditions laid down in this subsection, the Committee may with the written consent of the officer accept him as a contributor on such conditions.

Acceptance of an officer as contributor on special conditions.

The conditions referred to are that the age of the officer shall, in accordance with the certificate of the medical examiner and subject to the confirmation of the Committee, be rated up as a life equal to an older age than his actual age at the date of the officer's first contribution for the purpose of calculating the pension that would be payable to his widow and children.

The Committee may refuse to accept the officer as a contributor.

(3) If as a result of the medical examination the Committee refuse to accept the officer as a contributor, the contributions paid by him shall without deduction be returned to him, and he shall not become a contributor.

A. TO C. CALCULATION OF REGISTERED PENSIONS.

The Committee shall keep a register in which full particulars respecting each contributor shall be entered and such other records as shall be deemed necessary from time to time, and on the death of a married contributor it shall be the duty of the Committee, on being duly satisfied of the material facts and dates, to compute the pension payable to his widow and orphans, as the case may be, by the use of these Rules.

A. Public Officer who commenced to contribute while a Bachelor.

Note—No registered pension is to be recorded unless and until the bachelor contributor marries.

I. FIRST WIFE'S PROSPECTIVE PENSION

Note—The registered pension to be recorded on marriage is found by adding together the two amounts calculated in accordance with the following Rules I. (a) and I. (b) respectively:

- (a) Pension in consideration of the contributions paid during bachelorhood.

Rule I.

- (a) Accumulate the contributions and multiply the result by the quantity found from Table II, corresponding to the respective ages next birthday of the husband and wife at the date of marriage. The product gives the registered pension on account of the contributions paid during bachelorhood.

(b) Pension in consideration of the annual contribution current at the date of marriage.

Note—The amount of the current annual contribution is obtained by multiplying by 12 the amount of the last monthly contribution.

Rule I.

(b) Turn to the section of Table I, which contains in the heading the age of the husband at the date of completion of his period of contribution, and multiply the amount of the current annual contribution, by the quantity found from that section corresponding to the respective ages next birthday of the husband and wife at the date of marriage. The product gives the registered pension on account of the annual contribution current at the date of marriage.

Example of the application of Rules I. (a) and I. (b)—

Officer born on	July 31, 1858
Officer commenced to contribute on...	April 1, 1884
Officer married on	June 30, 1888
Annual contribution at date of marriage	$19.20

Wife born on	Aug. 31, 1868
Officer's age next birthday at date of marriage	30
Officer's age next birthday at completion of contribution period	61
Wife's age next birthday at date of marriage...	20

Application of Rule I. (a)—

Accumulation of contributions paid during bachelorhood—
Total accumulation—$81.60.

(c) Variations of pension consequent on increments to, and decrements from, the current annual contribution while the contributor is married to his first wife.

Note—The cessation of the contribution from any cause before the completion of the full period of contribution must be regarded as a decrement from the current annual contribution equal to the amount of such current annual contribution.

Rule I.

(c) Turn to the section of Table I which contains in the heading the age of the husband at the date of completion of his period of contribution, and multiply the amount of the increment to, or the decrement from, the current annual contribution by the quantity found from that section corresponding to the respective ages next birthday of the husband and wife at the date of the variation of the contribution.

The product gives the amount to be added to the registered pension consequent on the increment to the current annual contribution, or, as the case may be, the amount to be deducted from the registered pension consequent on the decrement from the current annual contribution.

Example of the application of Rule I. (c)—

Assume particulars as in the Example subjoined to Rules I. (a) and I. (b)—

- (a) Assume that the contributor is married to a wife of the age that his last preceding wife would have been had she survived to the date of the variation of the contribution, and proceed in accordance with Rule I. (c).

Example of the application of Rule II. (a)—

If the particulars be as in the Example subjoined to Rule I. (c), except that the first wife; who was born on 31st August 1868, died on 30th November 1888, it would be assumed that the contributor was at the date of each of the three variations of the contributions married to a wife who was born on the 31st August 1868. The calculations will then be identical with those given in the Example subjoined to Rule I. (c).

- (b) Variations of pension consequent on the re-marriage of the contributor.

Note—No variation of the registered pension is to be recorded if the second, or subsequent, wife was at the date of the re-marriage of the same age next birthday as the last preceding wife would have been had she survived to that date.

Rule II.

- (b) If the second, or subsequent, wife was at the date of the re-marriage of a greater or less age next birthday than the last preceding wife would have been had she survived to that date, multiply the amount of the registered pension by the quantity found from Table III, corresponding to the age next birthday of the husband at the date of re-marriage, and the age next birthday which the last preceding wife would have attained had she survived to that date; multiply the product so obtained by the quantity found from Table II, corresponding to the respective ages of the husband and of the second, or subsequent, wife at the date of the re-marriage.

The result gives the registered pension to be recorded on the re-marriage of the contributor.

Example of the application of Rule II. (b)—

Assume particulars as in the Example subjoined to Rules I. (a) and I. (b)—

First wife died on	Nov. 30, 1888
Contributor re-married on... ..	Jan. 31, 1893
Contributor's age next birthday at date of re-marriage	35
Second wife born on... ..	June 30, 1873
Second wife's age next birthday at date of the re-marriage	20
Age next birthday which the first wife would have attained had she survived to date of the re-marriage	25

31st January 1893—The second wife being of a less age next birthday at the date of the re-marriage than the first wife would have been had she survived, the registered pension $155.99—see Example subjoined to Rules I. (a) and I. (b)—is to be re-calculated.

Quantity found from Table III.—

Husband 35	}	2.074
Wife 25

Quantity found from Table II.—

Husband 35	}462
Wife 20

$$$155.99 \times 2.074 = $323.52.$$

$$$323.52 \times .462 = $149.47 = \text{registered pension at 31st January 1893.}$$

(c) Variations of pension consequent on increments to, and decrements from, the current annual contribution while the contributor is married to his second, or subsequent, wife.

Rule II. (c). Proceed as in Rule I. (c).

B. Public Officer who commenced to contribute while Married.

III. FIRST WIFE'S PROSPECTIVE PENSION

Note—In every case of a public officer who commenced to contribute while married, the wife at the date of commencement of the contribution is to be considered as the officer's first wife, and no particulars are to be recorded respecting any former wife to whom he may have been married, unless there is issue of such former wife of a pensionable age. (See D.—Pensions to Orphan Children.)

(a) Pension in consideration of the annual contribution current at the date of commencement of the contribution.

LAWS OF TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO

Rule III.

- (a) Turn to the section of Table I, which contains in the heading the age of the husband at the date of completion of his period of contribution, and multiply the amount of the current annual contribution by the quantity found from that section corresponding to the respective ages next birthday of the husband and wife at the date of commencement of the contribution.

The product gives the registered pension on account of the annual contribution current at the date of commencement of the contribution.

Example of the application of Rule III. (a)–

Officer born on	Aug. 31, 1850
Officer married on	June 30, 1879
Officer commenced to contribute on ...	July 31, 1890
Annual contribution current on 31st July 1890... ..	$19.20
Date of completion of contribution period	Aug. 31, 1915
Wife born on	Oct. 31, 1860
Officer's age next birthday on 31st July 1890	40
Officer's age next birthday at completion of contribution period	65
Wife's age next birthday on 31st July 1890	30
31st July 1890—Current annual contribution	$19.20

Quantity found from Table I, section for Officers aged 65 next birthday at completion of period of contribution—

Husband	40	}	3.99
Wife	30

$$19.20 \times 3.99 = $76.61 =$ registered pension in consideration of annual contribution current at commencement of contribution.

- (b) Variations of pension consequent on increments to, and decrements from, the current annual contribution while the contributor is married to his first wife.

Rule III. (b) Proceed as in Rule I. (c).

IV. SECOND, AND SUBSEQUENT, WIFE'S PROSPECTIVE PENSION

- (a) Variations of pension consequent on increments to, and decrements from, the current annual contribution while the contributor is a widower.

Rule IV. (a) Proceed as in Rule II. (a).

- (b) Variations of pension consequent on the re-marriage of the contributor.

Rule IV. (b) Proceed as in Rule II. (b).

- (c) Variations of pension consequent on increments to, and decrements from, the current annual contribution while the contributor is married to his second or subsequent wife.

Rule IV. (c) Proceed as in Rule I. (c).

C. Public Officer who commenced to contribute while a Widower.

V. SECOND, AND SUBSEQUENT, WIFE'S PROSPECTIVE PENSION

Rule V. For the purpose of calculating the registered pension assume that the deceased wife survived to the date of commencement of the contribution and died immediately afterwards; then proceed in accordance with the rules applicable to the case of Officers who commenced to contribute while married, see B.

D. Pensions to Orphan Children.

VI. ORPHANS' PENSIONS AT DEATH OF WIDOWER CONTRIBUTOR

- (a) Case where the orphans are the issue of the same wife.

Rule VI.

- (a) Divide the amount of the registered pension of the widower contributor equally among the children entitled for the time being.

Example of the application of Rule VI. (a).

Registered pension of widower contributor at his death, $288.00 a year.

Children entitled on his death—

Spinster daughter aged ...	19
Son aged	14
Son aged	12

Each of the three children will take a pension of $96.00 a year.

If the Spinster daughter marry at the age of twenty the two sons will each take a pension of $144.00 a year.

If the younger son subsequently dies at the age of fifteen the elder son will take the full pension of $288.00 a year.

(b) Case where the orphans are the issue of different wives.

Note—The rules here given provide for the case of two wives only.

Rule VI. (b)

(1) Divide equally among such of the children of the first wife as may be entitled for the time being one moiety of the pension which the first wife would have received had she survived the contributor.

(2) Divide equally among such of the children of the second wife as may be entitled for the time being one moiety of the pension which the second wife would have received had she survived the contributor had there been no issue of the first wife entitled to pension.

(3) So soon as all the children of either the first wife or the second wife have ceased to be entitled to pension, divide equally among such of the children of the other wife as may be entitled for the time being the whole of the pension which such other wife would have received had she survived the contributor, and had there been no issue of the first wife entitled to pension.

VII. ORPHANS' PENSIONS AT DEATH OR RE-MARRIAGE OF WIDOW

Rule VII. Divide the amount of the widow's pension equally among her children entitled for the time being.

Example of the application of Rule VII.—

Amount of widow's pension at her death or re-marriage $288.00 a year.

Children entitled at her death—

Assuming the particulars as in the example subjoined to Rule VI. (a) proceed as therein indicated.

VIII. ORPHANS' PENSIONS AT DEATH OF MARRIED CONTRIBUTOR

Rule VIII. In the case where a contributor dies leaving a widow, and also children, the issue of a previous marriage, divide equally among such of the children of the first wife as may be entitled for the time being one moiety of the pension which the first wife would have received had she survived the contributor. On the widow's pension ceasing, divide equally among such of the children of the first wife as may be entitled for the time being the whole of the pension which the first wife would have received had she survived the contributor.

Note—In this case, as long as the children of the first wife are entitled to pension, the widow's pension is one moiety of that which she would have received had there been no such children.

E. Public Officer transferred to other public service.

Throughout these rules and examples the calculations depend, not on the official income of the contributor, but on the amount of his contribution to the Scheme, so that the transfer of a public officer to other public service does not affect his registered pension unless the amount of his current annual contribution is varied, in which case the proper adjustment is to be made in accordance with the preceding rules.

F. Calculation of Quantities (or Tabular Results) for ages not given in the Tables.

Table II. The quantities are given for every age of the husband from 15 to 60, and for every fifth age of the wife from 15 to 65. Ages of husbands and wives below and beyond are to be treated as the youngest and oldest ages given respectively.

For the intermediate ages of wives, interpolate by first differences as follows:

To find the quantity corresponding to the ages of the husband and wife aged respectively 35 and 27 next birthday—

The quantity for ages 35 and 25 given in the Table is482

The quantity for ages 35 and 30 given in the Table is507

So that the addition of five years to the age of the wife results in an addition of .025 to the quantity given in the Table for ages 35 and 25.

An addition of two years as the age of the wife accordingly results by proportion in an addition of two-fifths of .025 to the quantity given in the Table for ages 35 and 25.

Two-fifths of .025 = .010, which added to .482 gives .492 which is the required quantity corresponding to ages 35 and 27.

Table I. This Table is divided into eleven sections respectively applicable to Officers who will be aged next birthday 55, 56, 57, up to 65, when they complete their period of contribution. Care should in all cases be taken to turn to the section which contains in the heading the age of the husband at the date of completion of his period of contribution.

In each section the quantities are given for 35 consecutive ages of the husband, terminating at the age preceding that at which the contribution ceases, and for every fifth age of the wife from 15 to 65.

Ages of the wife below or beyond are to be treated as the youngest and oldest ages given respectively. For the intermediate ages of wives interpolate by first differences as explained above. Thus, the quantity found from the first section of the Table (age 55) corresponding to the ages of a husband and wife aged respectively 45 and 38 next birthday is three-fifths of .18 added to 2.39, which gives 2.498.

For Officers who commence to contribute at an earlier age than 20 next birthday the method of calculation given in the subjoined examples is to be followed.

Example (1). An Officer aged 17 next birthday, having a wife aged 15 next birthday, commences to contribute. Assume that the Officer is aged 20 next birthday, so that the quantity found from Table I will be 8.30.

This Officer receives an increment of salary at age 22 next birthday, when his wife's age is 20. Assume that his age is 25 next birthday, i.e., his actual age 22 plus the difference between his actual age at entry and 20, which is three years. The quantity found from Table I will be 7.00.

Example (2). An Officer aged 19 next birthday commences to contribute as a bachelor, and five years later, when aged 24 next birthday, marries, his wife's age being 20 next birthday. The quantity found from Table II in accordance with Rule I. (a) will be taken from the actual ages (husband 24 and wife 20), and will be .683. With respect to the current annual contribution at marriage, assume that the Officer's age is 25 (his actual age plus one), so that the quantity found from Table I will be 7.00.

This Officer receives an increment of salary when aged 39, when his wife's age is 35. Assume as before that the ages are 40 and 35 respectively, so that the quantity found from Table I will be 3.61.

Note—It will be observed that this method takes account of the actual number of years for which the annual contribution will run. In Example (1) when the Officer receives the increment of salary at age 22 he has contributed to the Scheme for five years, so that at the expiration of 30 years his contributions will cease. Similarly in Example (2), when the Officer marries at age 24, he also has contributed to the Scheme for five years, so that although he is two years older than the Officer in Example (1), yet the unexpired period of contribution is the same in each case, and the wife's age in each instance 20, so that no important error is involved in using the same tabular quantity for the two cases.

Table III. The quantities are given for the same ages as in Table II; ages of husbands and wives below and beyond are to be treated as in using that Table.

For the intermediate ages of wives interpolate by first differences as explained above, except that it must be noted that in this Table an addition to the age of the wife results in a deduction from the quantity given in the Table.

To find the quantity corresponding to the ages of a husband and wife aged respectively 35 and 27 next birthday—

The quantity for ages 35 and 25 given in the
Table is	2.074
The quantity for ages 35 and 30 given in the
Table is	1.974

So that the addition of five years to the age of the wife results in a deduction of .100 from the quantity given in the Table for ages 35 and 25.

An addition of two years to the age of the wife accordingly results by proportion in a deduction of two-fifths of .100 from the quantity given in the Table for ages 35 and 25.

Two-fifths of .100 = 0.40 which deducted from 2.074 leaves 2.034 which is the required quantity corresponding to ages 35 and 27.
