

► Decent work and the Social and Solidarity Economy (SSE): Focus on the Arab States

Cooperatives Unit, Enterprises Department

April 15 2022 version

► General Discussion on Decent Work and the SSE at the 2022 International Labour Conference

- Why a General Discussion on Decent Work and the SSE?
- What is the Office's proposed definition on the SSE for discussion?
- What is the state of the art of the SSE at the global and the Arab States?
- How can the SSE contribute to decent work and sustainable development?
- How is the SSE related to the work of the ILO constituents?
- What does the ILO do to advance the SSE?
- What are the next steps in the lead up to the general discussion?

► Why a General Discussion on Decent Work and the SSE?

► The decision

- Decision taken by the 341st Governing Body (GB) of the ILO in 2021 hold a General Discussion on “Decent Work and the Social and Solidarity Economy (SSE)”
- This is the first time that the International Labour Conference (ILC) will have a general discussion on the SSE

▶ The global context leading to this ILC General Discussion

- ▶ Growing attention from governments and social partners on human-centred economic models.
- ▶ Opportunity to shed light on the growing diversity of enterprise models that combine social, economic and environmental objectives.
- ▶ The SSE has gained further recognition for its role during the global financial crises and the recent COVID-19 pandemic.
- ▶ Relevance of the SSE in building resilience in the post-pandemic era.

▶ The expected outcomes of the ILC Committee on Decent work and the SSE

- ▶ Propose a universal definition of the term “social and solidarity economy”, including its associated principles and values
- ▶ Assess the contribution of the SSE to managing and promoting the overall support for people through the transitions they face in their working lives
- ▶ Provide policy guidelines for a conducive environment for the SSE
- ▶ Provide guidance to the Office on how to engage in promoting and advancing the SSE
- ▶ Encourage the Office to establish and maintain partnerships with SSE stakeholders

What is the Office's proposed definition on the SSE for discussion?

▶ The SSE is an umbrella term that covers institutional units based on values and principles

Values and principles have featured prominently in recent legislation on the SSE, based on a review of selected legislation on the SSE. Most common values include:

- ▶ Care for people and the planet
- ▶ Egalitarianism
- ▶ Interdependence
- ▶ Integrity
- ▶ Self-governance

▶ A set of SSE principles operationalizes the set of SSE values

- ▶ Voluntary cooperation
- ▶ Social or public purpose
- ▶ Autonomy and independence
- ▶ Prohibition or limitation of profit distribution
- ▶ Democratic and participatory governance

▶ The SSE includes organizational forms operating in accordance with values and principles

They include:

- ▶ Cooperatives
- ▶ Mutual societies
- ▶ Associations
- ▶ Foundations
- ▶ Self-help groups
- ▶ Social enterprises

► Proposed definition based on values, principles and organizational types

The Social and Solidarity Economy (SSE) encompasses institutional units with a social or public purpose, engaged in economic activities based on voluntary cooperation, democratic and participatory governance, autonomy and independence, whose rules prohibit or limit the distribution of profit.

SSE units may include cooperatives, associations, mutual societies, foundations, social enterprises, self-help groups and other units operating in accordance with SSE values and principles in the formal and the informal economies.

► What is the state of art on the SSE at the global and the Arab States?

► A global overview of the SSE

Traditional and new forms:

- Terminology rooted in different traditions (e.g. social economy, third sector, non-profit sector)
- Traditional forms (e.g. associations, cooperatives, mutuels) and new forms (e.g. social enterprises) and sectors

Institutional support:

- Growing support from regional institutions (e.g. African Union, European Union, Organization of American States, Association of Southeast Asian Nations)

Policy and legislation:

- Emerging policies and laws on the SSE
- Update of existing policies and laws of organizational forms under the SSE

Statistics:

- Lack of internationally agreed guidelines on SSE statistics
- Few regions, countries with statistical initiatives, including by their SSE organizations (e.g. Quebec, Portugal)
- International federations (e.g. International Cooperative and Mutual Insurance Federation, International Cooperative Alliance) gather data on the organizational forms under the SSE

► Overview of the SSE in the Arab States (1)

- The use of the term SSE and its variants are not common in the Arab States
- In the past few years some countries in the region have been reforming their cooperative policies
- Currently there is no policy or legal framework on the SSE in the region
- Formal cooperatives were introduced in the 1900s
- Mutual insurance institutions and foundations are prominent in the region
- Social enterprises, established largely by young people, emerged in recent decades although there is no policy or legislation in place at this time

► Overview of the SSE in the Arab States (2)

- Lack of reliable and comparable statistics on the SSE
- A few recent initiatives on promoting the SSE by regional organizations (United Nations Economic and Social Commission of West Asia; Council of Arab Economic Unity; Economic and Social Council of the Arab League)
- International developmental agencies have been supporting SSE initiatives in the region (e.g. ILO, European Union, etc.)

SSE in the region

Jordan

- ▶ Has a national strategy for the Jordanian cooperative movement (2021-2025)
- ▶ 1,592 cooperatives were registered in 2018, with 142,000 members, created around 20,000 direct job opportunities.
- ▶ Social enterprises are mainly registered under the umbrella of not-for-profit organizations.

Kuwait

- ▶ In 2018, the 70 Kuwaiti consumer cooperatives, which operate around 3,000 outlets, controlled 65 per cent of the food and beverage market in the country.
- ▶ Consumer cooperatives allocate 25 per cent of their net profit to charities. Similar cooperatives exist in all GCC countries and in the other Arab States.

SSE in the region

Occupied Palestinian Territory

- ▶ Has a National Strategy for the Cooperative Sector (2021-2023)
- ▶ There were 866 cooperatives (677 in the West Bank and 189 in the Gaza Strip) in 2019, with 54,000 members.
- ▶ The Union of Cooperative Associations for Saving and Credit has 12 saving and credit associations covering around 224 locations, including 154 Palestinian villages. These associations had 5,281 users by the end of 2019, 85 per cent of which were women.

► How can the SSE contribute to decent work and sustainable development?

▶ Contributions of the SSE to decent work and sustainable development

- ▶ Employment and income generation
- ▶ Social protection and the provision of social services
- ▶ Rights at work
- ▶ Gender equality
- ▶ Social dialogue
- ▶ Transition to the formal economy
- ▶ Crisis prevention and recovery, and promotion of peace and resilience
- ▶ Just digital transition
- ▶ Just transition to environmental sustainability

► The SSE and employment and income generation

- The SSE generates direct and indirect employment
- SSE units participate across various stages of supply chains
- SSE units provide a wide range of services to their members, and/or in their communities that improve incomes and livelihoods
- SSE units create jobs through worker-owned enterprises
- Access to finance remains a challenge for SSE units

► The SSE, social protection and provision of social services

- The SSE facilitates access to social protection for their members (e.g. Saudi Arabia contributes globally 37% to takaful, which is cooperative insurance model that plays a key role in the alleviation of poverty and the promotion of shared prosperity).
- SSE units provide health and care services to their members
- SSE units are established to provide health care and other care services (e.g. pharmacy cooperatives, care cooperatives, community associations)
- SSE units play a critical role for rural and informal economy workers who may face challenges accessing formal social protection system

► The SSE and rights at work

- SSE units are required to comply with international labour standards (ILS) and national labour legislation in respect of their employment relationships
- ILS refer to the SSE or organizational forms that fall under it (e.g. R. 193, R. 204, R. 205)
- The SSE promotes compliance with ILS among their members and undertake joint initiatives with other community actors to advance their rights
- Labour laws must be applied to avoid the misuse of the organizational forms that fall under the SSE (e.g. pseudo cooperatives)

► The SSE and gender equality

- SSE units promote gender equality and advance SDG 5 by:
  - strengthening participation of women in the SSE, in membership and leadership positions
  - developing SSE units in economic sectors with higher participation of women (e.g. care economy)
  - providing affordable and accessible services for women
  - giving women the opportunity to engage in decision-making and power-sharing
- SSE units may be constrained by legal provisions, social norms and historical inequalities
- When established by and for women, SSE units can help overcome social and cultural constraints

► The SSE and social dialogue

- In some countries, SSE vertical structures take part in social dialogue institutions
- Representatives of SSE units can take part in cross-border social dialogue mechanisms, notably in regional integration communities

► The SSE and the transition to the formal economy

- The impact of COVID-19 has been particularly severe on the world's two billion informal workers (IW)
- Their earnings remain far below pre-pandemic levels
- Women IW are disproportionately burdened with unpaid care work within households
- Informal own-account workers can organize into SSE units to transition to the formal economy
- Vertical SSE structures of IW provide them with voice and representation
- SSE units help scale up informal economy units via:
  - Enhancing their bargaining position
  - Scaling up their activities through collective forms of entrepreneurship
  - Facilitating workers' access to social protection

► The SSE and crisis prevention and recovery, promotion of peace and resilience

- The SSE plays a role in preventing and recovering from crises caused by conflict and disaster (e.g. in Lebanon, cooperatives have played a critical role in post-conflict reconstruction by creating jobs for returning displaced persons and ex-combatants, rebuilding businesses and homes, giving refugees and returnees access to markets, facilitating reconciliation and re-establishing relationships torn apart by war)
- SSE units were agents in addressing adverse effects of COVID-19 crisis
- SSE units support members and communities during economic downturns
- SSE units cooperate with governments and development partners seeking to address needs of refugees and host communities (e.g. cooperatives in Jordan have helped obtain work permits for Syrian refugees, conducted training, provided career guidance, job placement services and supported OSH improvements for refugees and migrant workers and host communities in agriculture)
- The SSE participates in rebuilding communities in post-conflict settings

▶ The SSE and just digital transition

- ▶ SSE units contribute to making digital transitions fairer, by connecting businesses and customers to employees
- ▶ SSE units use digital work platforms to help transform business processes with implications for the future of work
- ▶ The SSE offers a range of alternatives for workers, producers and users of digital services, including online applications that they own and control

► The SSE and the just transition to environmental sustainability

- SSE units in agriculture, housing and energy are greening their operations and lowering their environmental footprint
- SSE units contribute to environmental sustainability by producing and selling products and services in green sectors (e.g. renewable energy, recycled materials, e-waste recycling)
- Waste pickers in informal economy have set up a variety of SSE units
- The SSE contributes to food networks associated with fair trade, solidarity purchasing and collective provisioning

► How is the SSE related to the work of the ILO constituents?

▶ ILO Constituents and the SSE

- ▶ The promotion of the SSE to advance decent work and sustainable development calls for new forms of cooperation between governments, employers, workers and societies at large
- ▶ Respecting SSE values and principles requires putting workers' rights and the needs, aspirations and rights of all people at the heart of policies and enterprise-level practices
- ▶ A conducive environment for the SSE can best be developed through tripartite participation and in consultation with other relevant and representative SSE organizations

▶ Governments

- ▶ Recognition of the SSE in policy and legislation (e.g. constitutional level, framework laws, strategies, decrees)
  - ▶ Enactment of SSE policy and legislation followed by the creation or strengthening of government institutions that regulate and support the SSE
  - ▶ Commitment to developing the SSE often generate policy coherence and coordination mechanisms across policy areas
  - ▶ An environment conducive to sustainable SSE enterprises applies to sustainable enterprises more generally
- ▶ It is important to ensure a level playing field for SSE units, on terms no less favourable than those accorded to other forms of enterprise and social organization

Workers' organizations

- ▶ Workers' organizations and SSE units share common values and principles, history, and occasionally intersecting institutions
- ▶ Workers' organizations have established SSE units in retail, affordable housing, small-scale finance, mutual insurance, education and training, and employment preservation to benefit their members
- ▶ Workers' organizations and SSE units collaborate in the informal economy
- ▶ Workers' organizations occasionally build alliances with the SSE to pursue common goals

- ▶ Workers' organizations could advise and assist workers in the SSE to join workers' organizations, and assist their members to establish SSE units

Employers' organizations

- ▶ SSE units and SSE vertical structures may join existing employers' organizations
- ▶ Employers' organizations may develop structures and extend services to SSE units and their horizontal and vertical structures
- ▶ SSE units may also set up their own employers' organizations
- ▶ Vertical and horizontal structures of the SSE may be represented in international private sector platforms along with other employers' organizations
- ▶ Employers' organizations could consider, where appropriate, the extension of membership to SSE units and provide appropriate support services on the same terms and conditions applying to other members

► What does the ILO do to advance the SSE for decent work?

ILO's Cooperatives Unit (ILO COOP)

- ▶ ILO COOP was established in 1920 by a decision of its Third Governing Body
- ▶ It has worked on advancing cooperatives for over a century in responding to Constituents' requests in partnership with cooperative organizations
- ▶ In the past decade the ILO has been developing a portfolio of work on the wider SSE
- ▶ The Office uses a “one ILO” approach in incorporating SSE units into its programmes

► ILO Services on the SSE

Legal and policy advice

- ▶ The ILO provides legal and policy advice based on its Recommendation on the Promotion of Cooperatives, 2002 (No. 193)
- ▶ More than 117 countries have used the recommendation and the ILO's guidelines for cooperative legislation to support the review and development of cooperative policies and laws
- ▶ The Office has been receiving requests from the Constituents in Member States to support development of SSE policies and legislation
- ▶ Recent requests for support include technical assistance in implementing SSE policies

Research and knowledge generation

- ▶ Improving the understanding of the role of cooperatives and the wider SSE in advancing decent work and sustainable development
- ▶ Advancing the international guidelines concerning statistics of cooperatives adopted at the 20th International Conference of Labour Statisticians for harmonized and comparable data on cooperatives
- ▶ Producing research papers and briefs (e.g. child labour, forced displacement, platform economy, renewable energy, and the creative economy)
- ▶ Dissemination of knowledge through the ILO topical pages on cooperatives and the wider SSE, monthly e-newsletters, videos on cooperatives and the wider SSE on, webinars, blogs, podcasts, interviews and conferences

- SSE Academy: Brings together practitioners and policymakers from around the world to share experiences, good practices and lessons learned on the SSE
- SSE Collective Brain: Knowledge hub of the ILO SSE Academy to facilitate exchange and cooperation beyond the face-to-face interactions during the SSE Academy

► Development Cooperation (DC)

The ILO's DC projects support development of SSE units in advancing decent work and sustainable development.

- Formalization of the informal economy
- Promotion of universal health coverage
- Elimination of child labour and forced labour
- Advancement of youth employment and women economic empowerment
- Creation of income-generation opportunities in conflict/disaster affected communities and promoting peace and social cohesion
- Trade facilitation

Development cooperation: Focus on the Arab States

occupied Palestinian territory (oPt)

Support the development of cooperative sector through creating/strengthening policy, legal and institutional frameworks

Yemen

Contribute to reduced vulnerability, strengthen resilience of crisis-affected communities, and provide sustainable livelihoods opportunities and access to basic services, through cooperatives and other community-based organizations

Iraq and Lebanon

Support refugee populations and host communities through cooperatives and other SSE units

Jordan

Support refugee populations and host communities through macro, meso and micro level interventions on cooperatives and other SSE units

Partnerships

UN Task Force on the SSE (UNTFSSSE)

- ▶ The ILO co-founded and currently chairs the UNTFSSSE
- ▶ 18 UN Agencies and the OECD as members and 13 civil society organizations as observers

SSE organizations and research centers

- ▶ SSE umbrella organizations at international (e.g. GSEF, RIPESS) and national level (e.g. JCCU, Legacoop)
- ▶ Research institutions, such as: CIRIEC international; EURICSE; HIVA, EMES International

Cooperative focused partnerships

- ▶ The ICA has a General Consultative Status at the ILO since 1919 and has an MoU signed in 2019 using the Future of Work as a framework
- ▶ The ILO is member of COPAC, a multi-stakeholder partnership between representatives of the cooperative movement

Regional focused partnerships

- ▶ African Union (AU): The ILO supports the development of SSE strategy
- ▶ European Commission (EC): The ILO participates in the Expert Group on Social Economy and Social Enterprise (GECES)

What are the next steps in the lead up to the general discussion?

Challenges and Recommendations

- ▶ Despite the growing momentum around the SSE, significant challenges remain regarding data, legislation, support institutions and services
- ▶ A conducive environment for the SSE should be developed through tripartite participation with representative organizations of employers and workers
- ▶ Based on the conclusions of the general discussion, the Office is expected to further fine-tune its services on the SSE in support of its Constituents and in partnership with SSE organizations

How to engage with the general discussion on Decent Work and the SSE

Download and read the report (available in Arabic, Chinese, English, French, German, Hindi, Indonesian Bahasa, Italian, Japanese, Portuguese, Russian and Spanish).

Disseminate the report and hold discussions around it in your countries

As ILO constituents or observers, follow the ILC general discussion in June 2022 at the ILC
