Dissolution of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers

1. At its 112th Session (June 1950), the Governing Body granted general consultative status to the International Federation of Agricultural Producers (IFAP), an association constituted under French law with seat in Paris.
2. The Office has recently been informed by Mr David King, former Secretary-General of the IFAP, that the IFAP was dissolved by a court judgement dated 4 November 2010 of the Tribunal de Grande Instance de Paris,¹ which ordered the judicial liquidation of the IFAP.
3. Consequently, the consultative relationship between the IFAP and the International Labour Organization has ceased to exist.
