

Committee of the Whole

Resolution on the Centenary Declaration proposed by the Employers' and Workers' groups

The General Conference of the International Labour Organization, meeting at its 108th Session, 2019,

Having adopted the ILO Centenary Declaration,

Calls upon all constituents to give priority to the implementation of the human-centered approach for the future of work contained therein,

Recalls that the 2030 Development Agenda recognizes that partnerships and policy coherence are needed to achieve the Sustainable Developments Goals, in particular SDG N.8,

Stresses the importance to preserve the ILO's tripartite governance structure, normative mandate and programmatic priorities within the UN system while ensuring full involvement of the social partners in the elaboration of country-level priorities,

Re-affirms the leadership role of the ILO, as per the Philadelphia Declaration, to promote policy coherence across the multilateral system in the achievement of social justice,

Requests the Director-General to have the priorities of the Centenary Declaration reflected in the 2020-2021 Programme and Budget proposals, in terms of structure and content, for consideration of the Governing Body with substantial resources being allocated on the basis of the priorities identified in it, especially where currently limited.

Calls upon the ILO to work more closely with the organizations of the multilateral system, with a view to promote policy coherence across the multilateral system, in the advancement of decent and productive work and inclusive economic growth in light of the impact that technological change, financial, economic and trade policies have on employment, the world of work, workers' protection and the need for appropriate education and new skills.

And, with a view to promote such policy coherence, to:

- strengthen cooperation between the ILO and relevant organizations of the multilateral system with a view to promote inclusive economic growth and decent and productive work adopt measures to strengthen ILO's role to evaluate the impact that trade, economic and financial policies have on employment and decent work
 - strengthen country-level work between the organizations of the system to promote comprehensive macro-economic policies and labour market policies for decent work focusing on the four strategic objectives of the decent work agenda and with the involvement of the social partners
 - adopt measures to enhance collaboration at country level between the ILO and the IMF in the elaboration of Article 4 reports, consultation process with the social partners, and country programmes with a view to promote decent work and inclusive and sustainable growth.
-